

REDSKINS

The Redskins squeezed out the Giants to finish 2nd in the division in 2017. On paper, the roster is pretty balanced this season. Tiffany has come in and made this team her own.

However, a few GM moves has others in the league concerned about the Redskins' ability to place pressure on the Cowboys.

2018 Potential Formations –

- Offense. Pro Set (McCoy, Murray, OBJ, Hopkins, Clay) or Power I (McCoy, Murray, Crowell, OBJ, Hopkins), or Spread (McCoy, Murray/Crowell, OBJ, Hopkins, Robby Anderson) might be the go-to formations to start the season. If McCoy receives a suspension, we could see Run and Shoot or Single Back.
- Defense. With the addition of Edmunds, the 3-4 formation should be heavily used again in 2018.

Key Position Battles –

- 2nd Running Back. Crowell and Lat Murray should compete for the RB2 role in Washington. Both will be in time shares, but could still contribute to the offense.
- Punter. Ryan Allen and Bradley Pinion have the same bye-week. Who will receive the boot?

Potential Contributors –

- Virgil Green. The de-facto starter for the Chargers (NFL), could receive a few targets from Rivers. [Note – 2016 was Green's highest reception season with 22.]
- Jordan Akins. Neither Ryan Griffin or Stephen Anderson have stood out to lead the team in receptions at the position. As Akins gains familiarity with the offense, he'll have a shot to become a reliable target for Watson.

Injury/Suspension Recoverability –

- The Redskins will have a tough time recovering if McCoy is suspended or an injury hits McCoy, OBJ, or Hopkins. The team is without first round picks in 2019 and 2020.

Is 2018 the year of the Giants? A perennial 8-8 team, the Giants need a few other players to step up this season aside from Gurley.

2018 Potential Formations –

- Offense. Pro Set (Gurley, Graham, Powell/Riddick, Golladay/Shepard/Hurns/Agholor) will give the Giants plenty of options each week while keeping Gurley and Graham on the field.
- Defense. Two straight years of 3-4 formation...Let's make it three!

Key Position Battles –

- Derek Carr vs Patrick Mahomes. It will be fun to see who DJordan goes with at QB. Carr with a new offensive scheme OR Mahomes who's taking over an offense with plenty of weapons to use.
- 5th Offensive Starter. Nelson Agholor, Kenny Golladay, Allen Hurns, and Sterling Shepard will be battling each other for the 5th starting spot. Sterling or Kenny might receive the early nod.
- Theo vs Bilal. Todd Bowles planning to use the hot hand between Crowell and Powell. Theo still in Detroit as their receiving back.

Potential Contributors –

- Ja'Whaun Bentley. Bentley has been play well through the pre-season. Bentley should see snaps at some point for a position that is consistently injured in New England.
- John Simon. News from camp is that Simon is excelling being back at DE.
- Jake Butt. Jake could be a nice asset to pair with Keenum. The key for Jake – staying healthy! He's been dealing with knee issues through the pre-season.

Injury Recoverability –

- The Giants walk into the regular season with depth at LB. This will allow Anthony Walker with the time he needs to recover from his various injuries this pre-season. However, the Giants will be in trouble if anything happens to Gurley and Malcolm Brown loses the RB2 spot to John Kelly.

2018 Potential Formations –

- Offense. The Spread offense (Gordon, Lynch, Allen, Thielen, ?) is what I think the Eagles will use the majority of the season. If Goedert emerges, the offense might change to Pro Set (Gordon, Lynch, Allen, Thielen, Goedert).
- Defense. The scheme might change weekly. With the amount of DTs and CBs available, could we see a 4-2-5 or 3-3-5?

Key Position Battles –

- Defensive Line. The Eagles go into the season with EIGHT DTs (including TS). The team is desperately needing Khalil Mack to return from his holdout to strengthen his DE starters.
- Starting Linebackers. Preston Brown and BJ Goodson are probably locked in as starters for the Eagles. After that, a rotation of Matt Judon, Ryan Kerrigan, and Haason Reddick might receive starting nods as well.

Potential Contributors –

- Michael Gallup. Gallup is in a great position to contribute out of the gate.
- Minkah Fitzpatrick. The Eagles are already dealing with injuries at Safety. Depending on how he's used in Miami, he could be an immediate starter for the team.
- AJ Klein. Klein, coming off an injured 2017 season, could slot in as a starter in 2018.

Injury Recoverability –

- The Eagles have a 1st in 2019 and two in 2020 if they need to make a move. The health of Melvin Gordon, Beastmode, and Keenan Allen will be critical this season.

2018 Potential Formations –

- Offense. The offensive scheme changes a bit in 2018 as the Cowboys increase their usage of the Spread offense (Zeke, Freeman, Baldwin, Cooks, and Diggs), or if Mack/A. Morris, or newly acquired CJA contribute, the Power I (Zeke, Freeman, Mack/Morris/CJA, Diggs/Cooks/Baldwin, Diggs/Cooks/Baldwin).
- Defense. Based on the LBs on the roster, the use of the 3-4 formation continues in 2018. When bye weeks or injuries hit, the depth is there at Safety to use 3-5-3 (3 Deep).

Key Position Battles –

- Starting WRs. The battle for the starting lineup will be between Doug Baldwin, Stefon Diggs, and Brandin Cooks.
- 2nd Starting Defensive End. We can expect to see Cameron Jordan being the auto-start each week. The battle will be between Vic Beasley and JPP for the 2nd spot.
- Safety. Dallas could play the matchups each week through the Safety core that he's built.

Potential Contributors –

- Marlon Mack. If Mack is able to become healthy again, he has a shot at producing in an unknown Indy backfield.
- Chris Warren. Warren has earned opportunities to make the 53-player roster for the Raiders (NFL). As he develops experience, he could be a nice addition later in the season.
- Jaron Brown. After five seasons in Arizona (NFL), Brown finds himself without a lot of competition in Seattle (NFL). If he's able to develop rapport w/ Wilson, Brown could be a nice depth piece for the Cowboys (IFL).
- Ray-Ray Armstrong. Ray-Ray might receive passing-down work to augment the terrible defensive play of Ogletree.

Injury Recoverability –

- The Cowboys' focus is definitely on the starting lineup. However, if injuries strike any of the five offensive players, the Cowboys future draft picks may come in handy.
